POPE'S OBSEQUES

SOLEMN POMP.

THE FUNERAL PROCESSION.

Rome, January 26.

The obsequies of the Pope were carried out to-day with solemn pomp. The ceremonies began with a procession through the Basilica to the Chapel in the Choir, where after absolution had been given, the body was lifted from the funeral bed and placed in a coffin which consisted of three casings, one of cypress wood lined with red silk, the second of lead four millimetres thick, and the third of elm. The Prefect of the Sacred Palace laid two coverings of white silk on the Pope's face and hands. An account of the Pope's life was read and then enclosed in a copper cylinder and placed at his feet with a purse of red velvet and specimens of medals struck during his pontificate. Violet silk ribbons were placed across the lid of each of the three casings and sealed by prominent members of the Hierarchy, after which the coffin was surrounded by the Guardia Nobile. Followed by cardinals and members of the diplomatic corps it was carried in procession to the high altar, whence it was carried down into the vaults and laid in its tomb.

GERMANY'S FINANCIAL PROGRAMME

BALANCING THE BUDGET.

INCREASING THE RECEIPTS NEARLY 100 PER CENT.

Berlin, January 27.

In an important speech, the Chancellor, Dr. Wirth, addressing the Reichstag on reparations and Germany's financial programme, referring to the Allies' demand for balancing of the budget, said that when the new financial proposals had been voted, the German receipts would total 100 milliard marks against 55 milliard marks for last year.

The Chancellor then announced the terms of the agreement reached between the different German parties, namely:—(1) a compulsory loan of 100 milliard gold marks bearing interest only after three years and intended to cover the budget expenditure for 1922, not relating to ports and railways. (2) The tax on post-war profits to be abandoned. (3) The levying of a two per cent. business tax. (4) The raising of the duty on coal 40 per cent. and (5) A sugar duty of 50 marks per 100 kilogrammes.

The Chancellor concluded with a reference to and endorsement of Mr. Lloyd George's words of the need for restoration of confidence between the nations.

SOUTH AFRICA'S STRIKES.

COAL MINERS DISCHARGED.

ABSOLUTELY NO PROSPECT OF SETTLEMENT.

Johannesburg, January 26.

The colliery section of the Chamber of Mines has withdrawn the offer it made to the coal miners with the result that notices have been posted at the collieries discharging all strikers.

MINERS BITTER.

Johannesburg, January 25.

There is absolutely no sign of settlement. During the resumed conference on the gold dispute, the workers' representatives bitterly attacked the Chamber of Mines, declaring that the men's health did not matter to the Chamber, that it was the officials and not the miners who were redundant yet there had been no corresponding retrenchments in the number of officials employed.

"WHITE AUSTRALIA."

Sydney, January 26.

Mr. Hughes, the Prime Minister, in a speech, advocated throwing open the door of Australia to our own race and then the world would stand behind the "white Australia" policy.

NEGRO LY CHURS CONFERS.

FIVE LIFE SENTENCES PASSED.

Oklahoma City, January 26.

Five self-confessed members of a party which lynched a negro have been sentenced to penal servitude for life. Three of the convicted men are white and two negroes.

RUSSIAN FAMINE HORROR

"MILLIONS MUST DIE."

RELIEF WORKERS' AWFUL DILEMMA.

Geneva, January 26.

Dr. Nansen, in a despairing report to a meeting of the international committee for the relief of Russian famine regions, said that millions of people could have been saved if the governments last September had done what they had been asked. It was now too late and millions must die whatever the governments did. He warned relief agencies of the necessity of caution in choosing food because rich foods were killing people whose digestions had been weakened by famine. Grain was the best food but they were confronted with the awful dilemma of distributing grain for purposes of sowing as well as feeding, because sowing was essential to prevent a worse famine next year. This terrible choice must be made in selecting particular districts to be saved. He mentioned that the total gifts of the governments to the Red Cross amounted to £1,220,000, which was only sufficient to feed 2,000,000 people.

HANTUNG QUESTION.

HARDING'S MEDIATION.

Washington, January 26.

During the conference at the White House, President Harding submitted a plan under which Japan will cease to insist on giving a loan to China and will permit the latter to purchase the railway with notes payable optionally in five or fifteen years. On the other hand, China should consent to retention of a Japanese traffic manager and chief accountant during the period of payment. The Chinese delegates stated that to-day the proposal was cabled to Peking and intimated that if the question were left to them they would undoubtedly adopt President Harding's suggestion.

FRANCE'S FAR EASTERN INTERESTS.

COMMITTEES APPROVE SAFEGUARDING BILL.

Paris, January 27.

The Finance Committee of the Chamber of Deputies after listening to report by M. Bokanowski on the bill respecting the safeguarding of French interests in the Far East, which concludes with the text of the bill as completed yesterday, authorised him to present it to the Chamber. The Committee of Foreign Affairs also adopted the report.

NEW SOUTH WALES BORROWS.

NEW £7,000,000 6 PER CENT. LOAN.

London, January 26.

A new £7,000,000 New South Wales 6 per cent. loan is being underwritten at a price of ninety-seven for conversion loans repayable in August or October.

FRENCH NEWS.

Paris, January 23.

Negotiations for the Franco-British pact are proceeding satisfactorily. The two governments are now exchanging views about various Eastern issues, including North African problems which ought to be settled first.

The papers are greatly pleased over Count Sforza's appointment as Italian Ambassador to Paris. Count Sforza was ever one of the staunchest supporters of the Franco-Italian entente.—Havas.

ALLIED DEBTS FUNDING BILL.

SENATE APPROVES AMENDMENT.

Washington, January 27.

The Senate has approved an amendment to the bill for refunding allied debts to the United States providing a maximum interest of 4 1/2 per cent.

GERMANY'S 1921 T. T. D.

EXPORTS EXCEED IMPORTS.

Berlin, January 27.

In 1921, for the first time since the war, the value of German exports exceeded that of imports. The figures show the former at 14,800 million and the latter at 13,700 million marks. The excess is apparently due to restrictions on the import of food.

The China Mail.

"TRUTH, JUSTICE, PUBLIC SERVICE"

HONGKONG, FRIDAY, JAN. 27, 1922.

GOSH!

The population of England consists of Daily Mail readers and a few others. Those who believe in progress, and especially in education, may find comfort in this fact. Vox populi, vox Dei, some of those ignorant old Romans used to think, possibly meaning no more by that than the Malays mean when they mark a certain social incident by remarking "All' akbar." But there it is. Luckily this is Hong-kong, and we may find a reader or two able to consider the Daily Mail dispassionately, as a mere phenomenon. The Kaiser, writing to Hindenburg, claims to be above all human judgements; he will recognize

"no earthly judgement"; he is too big to be judged by any man, however highly placed. We pity the old fool of us mark these newer symptoms of his old affliction, and we are tempted to regard him as the worst case of swollen head on record. But we must not. There are the claims of the editor of the Daily Mail to consideration in this connection. Not Northcliffe. He was travelling at the time of the incidents to which we are calling your attention. There is an editor of the Daily Mail—although we cannot recall his name—and he performs his functions right there in London. Mr. H. G. Wells' articles on the Washington Conference were appearing in the Daily Mail, and they grew rather outspoken about the attitude of France. "Tell Wells," called the Daily Mail editor to some other of his hirelings in Washington, "tell Wells that"—the effect of the message being that he must tone down his references to France. Wells, who was signing his stuff, seems to have refused to write to suit "policy," and the Great Panjandrum then, with a flaring headline, "No More," or something like that, took his millions of readers into his confidence, and announced in effect that he had sacked H. G. Wells. There was a judge once who complained of a counsel's rudeness in this way: "I wish, Sir, that you would bear in mind that I am a vertebrate animal. Such language as you have been addressing to me would be offensive from God Almighty to a black-beetle." We do not admire the works of Mr. Wells so much; that we can afford to suggest a revision of that daring simile; but certainly we will assure that the "Tell Wells" message was very like one blackbeetle telling a smaller blackbeetle to order the kitchen out to behave itself. The cream of this joke appeared when the public learned that Mr. Wells was not employed by the Daily Mail, but by the New York World. The Daily Mail was only, by a usual arrangement, sharing the expense and the use of his articles. The American journal reproved the Daily Mail's cheek in issuing instructions to a World correspondent, and told Mr. Wells to go right ahead. "Mr. Wells," it announced, "is under the same instructions as every member of the World staff is, which are that there are no instructions beyond the obligation to write the truth as he sees it, with no leaning on any way or the other, because of any implied position of the paper's editorial policy." The Daily Express of London the Mar's great rival, is now advertising that it is publishing Mr. Wells' articles "just as received." So unlike the Kaiser, the editor of the Daily Mail has been and is being well punished for his egomania. Quite a lot of people have discovered, and announced, that while they are not in the least interested in the Daily Mail's opinions, they are interested in those of Mr. Wells, whether they agree with them or not. This is no matter for surprise. The most ignorant newspaper reader could be trusted to recognize that opinions in a signed article are not necessarily those of the paper which publishes them, so that it is impossible to guess what the great "stunt" expert was after in this extraordinary behaviour. "The opinions of men of genius are news," says one Home critic, and should be presented by any paper as such, regardless of any "policy" it may have. For our part we are disposed to feel grateful to the Daily Mail for thus exposing the true nature of the editorial veto in modern journalism. It shows that the public is allowed to have only what some editors think good for them, and that the idea of a "free Press" is a myth. Pending the reform of the Press, it is as well that the public should learn this, and be forearmed.

Strategy.

Next to the engaging young prodigal or the strong silent man, the public dearly loves a good strategist, witness the adulation accorded every master of resource since the day which saw David swinging a pebble to slay a Goliath right down to that which beheld Foch swinging a division to annihilate an army corps. The merits of the present shipping dispute apart, everyone will relish, therefore, the details of a clever stratagem attempted here last week and will commiserate with its author on the bad jobs that sent his plan a-gley, for his title to success could scarcely have been bettered by the famed Sempronius himself. Agent for a certain steamer touching here to land passengers, mails, and baggage—an hour's work, not more, our strategist sent wireless direction to the captain to make Junk Bay, ostensibly for a special police search, himself mean while making secret arrangements for clearance, pratique, and mails. In order to allay suspicion everything was ready at the Kowloon wharf to berth the steamer and it was not until the launch safely in midstream, the agent headed for Junk Bay, that the strikers caught a whiff of the proverbial rodent. The steamer's seamen accepted the special police search story, and had unloaded half the baggage when work came to an abrupt stop. They were warned. How is a mystery, but that steamer is still here.

"Scrapping" Confucius.

Nasty things were said about China by Professor Walter B. Pitkin, of Columbia University, at a recent luncheon of the Foreign Policy Association in New York. According to him China is "rotten politically and morally and in her organization," is "saturated with opium and morphine, besides being a nation of gamblers," and "her business men do not trust one another and there is no domestic credit worth while outside the treaty ports." He traced the cause of this dismal state of affairs to the ethics of Confucius who must, he declared, be "scrapped," before anybody can help China. Fortunately for the reputation of China and her great sage a champion arose in the person of Dr. C. K. Edmunds, director of Canton Christian College for eighteen years, who may be expected to know a great deal more of the subject than Professor Pitkin has ever read about it. He declared that instead of scrapping Confucius he would supplement it with the good derivable from other religions and pointed out pertinently to Professor Pitkin that China could do with the assistance of foreigners "who lack predatory motives."

Grossly Exaggerated.

Every now and then an alarmist wailing louder than the rest attempts to startle the world with a fearful prediction that some vital adjunct to life on this planet will soon disappear. Sometimes it is the earth's internal heat, occasionally it is food, but chiefly it is fuel. The world's oil supply is a favourite subject for gloomy prediction. It is refreshing, therefore, to find the views of the "long range experts" receiving rude rebuff from an authority so high as the President of the American Petroleum Institute, who terms them "grossly exaggerated and misleading." The petroleum resources of the world have hardly been scratched, according to this authority, and given free development the world's oil fields will yield sufficient fuel to meet all requirements for many generations. This is comforting news, especially for those who regard the motor ship as the vessel of the future and have heavily staked their faith. But it is less comforting news when one considers the evils it will perpetuate, especially in a place like Hongkong where motorists will in consequence become ever more plentiful and arrogant. Heigho!

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Owing to the Chinese New Year holidays, the China Mail will not be published to-morrow (Saturday). Adversaria will appear in Monday's issue which will be published at 1 p.m.

One case of plague, Chinese, was reported yesterday.

Mr. P. D. Chandler has arrived here from Shanghai to assume a new position as general agent in South China for Messrs. Struthers and Barry.

Attention is drawn to the advertisement of Madame Lottie Gordon teacher of voice production, singing and piano-playing.

The University of the Three Eastern Provinces will be opened during the coming summer. More than $2,000,000 has already been subscribed for its establishment and maintenance.

Messrs. Hughes and Hough advertise that the twin screw passenger steamer "Sun Tak," now lying at Yau-mai will be sold by public auction at their salesrooms on February 16 at 3 p.m.

Yokohama has been visited by three vessels with smallpox on board last week but so far no deaths have been reported. Shipping men are rushing to get vaccinated in order to prevent possible contagion.

Messrs. A. S. Watson and Co., Ltd., advertise that to-morrow and Monday all departments will be closed for business. The Hongkong Dispensary, Dispensing Department, will open for dispensing prescriptions from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., and 6 p.m. to 7.30 p.m.

According to the Shanghai Journal of Commerce the Chapei Waterworks is planning to erect a new reservoir. The management is approaching the Canton Guild with a view to having the latter grant 10 mow of their land in Chapei for this purpose.

At Tuesday's meeting of the Sanitary Board, authority will be asked for Sanitary Inspector W. Midwinter and Rural Inspector Cotton to enter premises and seize unwholesome food in accordance with the Public Health and Buildings Ordinance.

Brevity may be the soul of wit but variety is the soul of entertainment. This evening the Kowloon Theatre will present "Nurse Marjorie," a delightful art feature starring Mary Miles Minter. Another change will be made on Sunday night when a holiday programme will be screened. Tuesday night will bring the usual popular cabaret dance.

One man dead, four dangerously ill and three others in the hospital with smallpox is the toll taken from the Struthers and Barry freight steamer "West Orowa," which arrived in Kobe from Shanghai on January 5. Mr. W. H. Rogers, a water tender on the "West Orowa," died on January 12. The purser, Mr. Moore, is dangerously ill and not expected to live. According to reports the disease is of a virulent type and there is apparently small chance of recovery to those who are taken sick with the disease.

A native bank in Peking Road, the name of which is not disclosed, is reported in the Chinese press to have closed its doors on Wednesday last week, having sustained heavy losses through speculation, says the N.C.D. News. For about a month, it is stated, rumours have been current that the concern was in a parlous condition owing to a sudden drop in the price of exchange companies' shares, and also the failure of the Woo Hai Bank which owed the bank in question $200,000. Owing to precaution taken before-hand other banks are said not to have been greatly perturbed over its failure. Its liabilities are estimated at $400,000 to depositors and $200,000 on current accounts.

CHILDREN'S CORNER.

My dear Children,
What happened this week to all of you who can draw and paint? No one entered for the drawing competition and so no one had the two nice prizes which were offered. That was very sad, don't you think?
I think the writing and guessing competitions are more popular and later on we must have some more of those.
Are you all still too busy with parties I wonder or have they come to an end now?
Your loving
PETER PAN.

SNIP NEARLY MISSES A PARTY.

One day Mary had an invitation to go and have tea with her friend Lucy and Snip and Snop were asked to go as well.
"Now will you be really good if I take you doggies?" asked Mary.
"Wout, wout, wout," they answered, which means "Are we ever anything else?"
"Oh yes indeed you are," said Mary (who generally knew what they were trying to say), "Have you forgotten the time when you went to Sally's party?"
At this their tails drooped and they both looked thoughtful. Once before, when they had gone to Sally's party they had crept into the dining room to have a look at the cakes and Snip had upset a dish of sock buns. Then they had gobbled them up and of course after that there was trouble!
"Never in my life," Mary went on when she saw that they were looking sad. "You have been forgiven long ago, and I am sure that you will not do such a thing again."
This cheered them up and they went out into the garden to have a race and to dig up some old bones which they had buried the week before.
When the morning of the party came Snip and Snop had to be washed. Now they were not very fond of this but they knew that they had to have nice clean coats or they would be left behind.
"You have your bath first Snip," urged Snop.
"No," said Snip, "I always have to be the first. It is your turn really."
"I'll give you one of my best bones," said Snop and this nearly persuaded his brother to jump into the water.
However at that moment the coolie who was going to wash them came along, picked up Snop and dumped him in while Snip sat by and watched and told him to be a brave dog and not to mind the soap going in his eyes.
This made Snop very angry but in a few minutes he was able to say the same things to Snip and although they were rather annoyed with each other for a few minutes they soon became friends again.
Just then Mary came along and when she had seen that they had been rubbed dry she told them to go out in the garden in the sun.
"But whatever you do you must keep clean," she added.
"Wout, wout, wout," they barked and ran out into the sunshine.
It was great fun rolling over and over on the lawn and playing their favourite game of "You-try-and-catch-my-tail-and-I'll-catch-yours" and they raced round and round until they had no breath left and had to lie panting on the grass.
Then Snip who somehow always seemed to be the one to get into trouble, said to Snop, "I'm simply starving. I must go and dig up one of my bones."
"Very well," replied Snop, "You can go and fetch one for me to. I am going to lie in the sunshine for a bit."
Off ran Snip and before very long came back with two very old but (to his mind) very nice bones and the two dogs munched away at them happily.
Then, just as they were finishing, Snop exclaimed in horrified tones, "Snip look at your paws! Mary will never let you go to the party like that!"
Snip stretched out his paws and what a shock he had. They were caked with muddy earth and in a dreadful state.
"I never thought about the party," he said sadly, "And my paws cannot have been dry. It is the coolie's fault for not drying them properly."
"It is no good getting cross with the coolie," his brother said, "That will not help matters. Rub your paws well on the grass Snip and see if you cannot make them clean."
Snip did this but although some of the earth came off his paws were still quite dirty.
"It is no use," he cried, "Mary will never let me go to the party like this. You know how particular she is."
"Meow, what is the matter Snip?" and Snop, the new kitten, came strutting along waving her tail at the dogs in a friendly manner.
They explained to her what had happened. Snop listened carefully and then she said, "Of course Mary R.G.A. Res. v. St. Joseph, Sookumpo ground.

Punjabis v. Kings Res., Punjabis ground (Hong Hum)

"Curlew" Res. v. Kowloon Res., Navy "A" ground.

Kick off at 2.30 p.m. sharp.

In the Shield Competition (the first round of which must be played off to-morrow) it is difficult to give the grounds on which the matches will be played, the first named team having choice of ground. "Tamar" and "Clarity" have played off and the "Chinese" teams play off to-day. I suppose that "Hawkin" has gone out, St. Joseph will get a bye into the next round. I expect to see the Club, Kowloon and "Cairo" pass into the second round.

There is only one First League game, unless the Police pick up one of their outstanding fixtures. The Chinese will not be out to-morrow being their New Year's Day.

I expect to see the "Tamar" win their game against the Soldiers to-morrow.

The Second Division have three games down to be played, and the Gunners Res., Curlew Res. and Punjabis should I think win.

COMING TO HONGKONG.

POPULAR WARWICK COMEDY COMPANY.

Hongkong is to be revisited next week by the Warwick Comedy Company who were here a month or two ago and have since been playing to big houses up north. "The Circle," "A Bill of Divorcement," and "The Double Event" are to be repeated and the Company will offer new pieces in Shaw's "Pygmalion" and Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest" and "A Woman of No Importance." Box plans are at Moutrie's.

would never let you go to the party like that but if you like I will help you. I am a good washer and I can make your paws clean."
"Oh kind Snop," they cried. Snop at once set to work to wash Snip's paws with her busy little tongue and in a short time no one would have known that he had been covered with earth. The dogs were delighted.
"Thank you dear Snop," cried Snip, "I will try and bring you back something nice from the party. What would you like?"
"I only like milk and fish," answered Snop.
"Well I will see if I can bring you one of these," said Snip who was anxious to repay her for her kindness. "That is kind of you Snip," Snop said, "Now if I were you I should go indoors and keep clean."
"Yes that is a good idea," Snip answered, "Come along Snop and Snop. We will have a game in the verandah."
So off they went, helter skelter, because somehow these dogs were always in a hurry and they managed to keep clean until it was time to get ready for the party.

PETER PAN.

Another time I will tell you how Snip tried to bring back some milk or fish for Snop.

AN IDEA FOR SCRAP BOOKS.

When the damp and foggy weather comes on and we have to stay indoors some days we all want to find plenty of things to do.
Making scrap books is rather fun but sometimes we have not enough scraps and pictures to stick in. If you have some sheets of black paper, or brown paper might do, take one of these. Lay it on the top of any picture in one of your story books and draw the outline carefully. Then cut it out and you will have a silhouette all ready to stick into your scrap book.

What is the difference between a sailor in prison and a blind man? (One cannot go to sea and the other cannot go to see.)

SEAMEN'S STRIKE.

CLOUD LIFTS.

MEN'S NEW OFFER.

MOVIE TOWARDS SETTLEMENT.

The seamen's strike cloud has at last begun to lift. There were strong rumours this morning of a possible move towards a settlement and justification for them is contained in a document containing a fresh offer by the seamen which reached the Secretary for Chinese Affairs (the Hon. Mr. E. R. Hallifax) from Canton. It is now being considered by the Government.

A translation of the document, cautiously furnished to press representatives this afternoon by Mr. Hallifax is as follows:

TRANSLATION.

Resolutions made by the whole body of Chinese Seamen for the settlement of the strike.

1. For the time being, the arrangements shall be as follows:
  - (a) An increase of 40% shall be given for wages under $15.
  - (b) An increase of 30% for wages under $15.
  - (c) An increase of 20% for wages over $15.

Resolution 4 (b) must be first recognized in part of these arrangements. If these are recognized by the shipowners all the seamen shall return to work at once and leave Resolution 4 to be considered by an Arbitration Board.

2. The Arbitration Board shall be established as follows:
  - (a) Representative of the Canton Government.
  - (b) Representative of the Hongkong Government.
  - (c) Representative of H. R. M. Consul General.
  - (d) Representative of the European Shipowners.
  - (e) Representative of the Chinese Shipowners.
  - (f) Representative of the Chinese Seamen.

The number of the members of this Board shall be decided by the Chinese and British Governments after due consideration, and this Board shall have the full power to settle the strike.

4. The Seamen's Union will lay the following 8 demands before the Board for consideration.

- (a) The increase shall be 30% for all wages over $30, and 40% for those under $30.
- (b) No Seaman who returns to work after the strike shall be dismissed or degraded for any reason.
- (c) The increase shall be applied to all seamen at present anchored at Hongkong or en route to Hongkong between other ports.
- (d) All Seamen shall be employed through the Union, so that no commission is to be paid to the Comrades.
- (e) No agreement in connection with the employment of seamen shall have effect unless the Chinese Seamen's Union has been a witness to it.
- (f) No Seaman or Officer of the Seamen's Union in Hongkong shall be banished for any charge, which has no proof.
- (g) The increase shall be dated back from the 1st January 1922, without reduction.
- (h) All Seamen after they have returned to work shall be treated with equality, and shall in no way be maltreated.

CARGO COOLIES CLAIMS.

The cargo coolies have approached their employers for an increase in wages but there has been no talk of strike on their part. They asked for an increase of 50 per cent and the employers offered them 20 per cent. The men then reduced their demand to 25 per cent and it was considered probable this morning that the parties would agree upon a figure somewhere around 25 per cent.

THE SHIPPING POSITION.

This morning there were 150 ships in port. This total was only one less than yesterday's but the tonnage was reduced by 25,287 and now stands at 231,649 tons. It was ascertained this morning that the four Blue Funnel boats which got away yesterday were the "Proteus" (for Manila, at 4 p.m.), the "Euryalus" (for Singapore, at 2 p.m.), the "Rhodius" (for Bangkok, at 4 p.m.) and the "Toucan" (for Singapore, at 4 p.m.). The China Navigation steamer "Lian" left for Shanghai at noon.

A new arrival from Shanghai was the "Empress of Russia" which went to her berth over at Kowloon at about 5.15 this morning. Her crew are said to be out of sympathy with the strike and up to 4.30 p.m. none had left the ship.

DAGGERS AND PEPPER.

KOWLOON DOCK FITTER'S STORY.

A fitter employed at Kowloon Docks was charged before Magistrate Wood this morning with the unlawful possession of two daggers and a packet of pepper, and with intent to enter a house to commit an armed robbery.

The evidence showed that when charged by the sergeant interpreter, the defendant said he went to a house in Battery Street on Tuesday to see a friend named Tong Sui. There he met a man named Lau Chi who told him that Tong Sui had moved to Mongkok. Later in the afternoon he met this Tong Sui coming out of the house. Tong Sui invited him upstairs to sit down. After a while Tong Sui asked him to take the daggers to the Ying Ching Chai tea shop and land them to him there. Tong Sui said that he was going to rob a rich seaman, and if successful would give defendant several tens of dollars to spend. The pepper was also given to him by Tong Sui. At the corner of Shanghai Street he was stopped by a district watchman. When the latter called out to him he did not attempt to run away but stood still.

Replying to the Magistrate, Inspector Brown admitted that the second charge was based on the defendant's own statement.

The Magistrate said that he did not think the statement amounted to an admission that defendant was going to commit a robbery. It was an admission of intent to take the weapons to a man who was going to enter the house.

Inspector Brown suggested that the intent to enter was implied in the defendant's statement.

The Magistrate disagreed and told the defendant that he had decided that as there was no evidence of intent to enter, he would amend the charge to one of aiding the man Tong Sui. The penalty was the same. If Tong Sui were arrested he would be charged with the principal offence.

After he had been duly warned, the defendant elected to make a statement. He repeated what he said at the station, and added that he slept the night in the Battery Street house. On the following morning Tong Sui said to him "You have a job so there is no harm in my carrying the daggers." He accepted this assurance. He had no intention of taking part in the robbery, and as a matter of fact he did not know where the house was. He had worked at the Kowloon Dock for four years and had never kept bad company. He got into trouble this time because he was ignorant of local regulations. He asked to be given a chance.

The Magistrate committed him to stand his trial at the next Criminal Sessions on the charge of aiding Tong Sui to commit an armed robbery.

CORONET THEATRE.

SPECIAL HOLIDAY PROGRAMMES.

In keeping with the festive spirit of Chinese New Year, the Coronet Theatre will screen special holiday programmes during the week-end. To-morrow (Saturday) night a delightful baroque entitled "Come On In" will be shown, on Sunday a charming romance, "Nurse Marjorie," starring Mary Miles Minter, and on Monday a clever six-part crook drama "The Dice of Destiny," featuring H. B. Warner. Here is variety enough for any holiday-maker—mirth, romance, and drama, each a fine example of the best cinema art.

CURRENT PROGRAMME'S FINE PICTURE.

"Out of the Storm," the Coronet Theatre's current feature attraction, is a picture that takes you of yourself, holding the interest by its dramatic story and superb acting. The more exciting episodes in this fine Eminent Authors picture—the desperate jail escape, the tragic shipwreck, and the disreputable saloon fight—are depicted with convincing realism. The more emotional incidents—and there are many—are presented with admirable restraint. But these and other notable features of "Out of the Storm," are not surprising. The story was adapted from Gertrude Atherton's famous novel "The Tower of Ivory" and the film was produced by Samuel Goldwyn and Rex Beach.

ship or signified any intention of doing so. European police stationed at the head of the gangway questioned every Chinese that approached and turned back all those who were unable to give a satisfactory explanation of their business on board. Union officials expressed the opinion that the crew would leave the ship later in the day but that remains to be seen.

Thinks of Tansan

OSAKA SHOSEN KAISHA,

On Board S/S. Kuregan!

November 8th, 1921.

Dear Mr. Clifford-Wilkinson,

I have now been drinking your Tansan for six weeks.

If you would look in Mr. E. V. Lucas's recent book, "Roving East and West," you will find reference to the quality of the water, which I thoroughly endorse. I have never enjoyed a mineral water so much.

I propose taking one bottle back to London with me.

Many thanks for your kind gift.

PRINCE IN HYDERABAD.

HYDERABAD, January 26th.
Last night the great city of Hyderabad was transformed into a place of a thousand enchantments behind an interminable tangle of illuminations. Every street was narrowed to a central avenue bounded by screens of soft, glowing splendour, behind which squatted or lounged a multitude, waxing and waning in the fitful shadows, which the Nazim's police estimate to have totalled 800,000.
The Char Minar was an exquisite tracery of lambent flame with the Dastar Creek of the Crescent and Cross burning fiercely over one arch and the Prince of Wales's feathers streaming in brilliance from the other arch. The Chowmahalla Palace, where the State banquet was held, was one vast flagstone of iridescence. Never has an Indian night looked down upon a more magical picture, pencilled in shimmering fire, with designs full of mystic traditions.

The only official engagement of the Prince of Wales to-day was a review of the troops in Secunderabad Garrison after breakfast. It was an imposing spectacle of the regular stereotyped order of such displays. The route all the way from Falaknuma Castle, about seven miles, was lined with holiday crowds in their best suits and most brilliant turbans, keeping the Prince busy acknowledging their demonstrations of friendship.

SHANTUNG QUESTION.

WASHINGTON, January 26th.
During a conference at White House, it is understood, Mr. Harding and Mr. Hughes made a suggestion to Mr. Bz for a settlement of the Shantung Question. Nevertheless both Chinese and Japanese quarters later declared that no agreement had been reached and that none was expected for several days.

ALLIED DEBTS FUNDING BILL.

WASHINGTON, January 26th.
In the course of the Senate debate on the Allied Debts Funding Bill, Senator Borah declared that the Allies could meet their indebtedness if the revised Treaty of Versailles reasonably reduced armaments. Senator Borah particularly attacked the French desire to maintain an army approaching a million while the German army was reduced to ten thousand.

GERMAN COMPULSORY LOAN.

BERLIN, January 26th.
With the two-fold object of helping to balance the Budget and securing the Socialist support the Government has decided to raise a compulsory loan of forty milliard marks.

ARGENTINE ORDERS SMOKELESS POWDER.

WILMINGTON, DELAWARE, Jan. 26th.
The Argentine has ordered a million lbs. of smokeless powder from a prominent American firm.

REST FOR MOTHERS.

How many babies wake up just about the mother's bed time and keep her busy for a good part of the night. The mother may not see anything apparently the matter with the child, but she may depend upon it that when baby is cross and sleepless there is something wrong, and the little one is taking the only man, he has of telling it.

Under such circumstances Baby's Own Tablets are just the friend needed. They contain no opiates, but send baby to sleep simply because they remove the cause of his sleeplessness and make him feel well and comfortable. They are recommended for teething troubles, constipation, diarrhoea, colic, fever, indigestion and worms; they promote appetite and regular development.

Sold by chemists, or by mail at 60 cents the vial, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 66 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

CHURCH NOTES.

In the Collect for Sunday, the Fourth Sunday after Epiphany we are reminded of our utter dependence on God's strength: we do not pray for freedom from spiritual temptations or shielding from bodily dangers, but that leaning on God we may face them bravely and in the power of the Cross rise triumphant.

In the Gospel we are again reminded of this: the Disciples are in great danger, the waves are sweeping right over their boat, their hearts are full of fear and in the midst of the storm
they see their Master lying fast asleep.
Before He helps them, they must ask for His protection, then He rebukes their terror and the waves, and over them and over the sea, falls a great calm.

It is very difficult to be conscious of God's nearness when we are in danger and often we cannot understand why He seems to be sleeping when we cry to Him but we must force ourselves to remember that His hands are holding ours and that if we could see His face we should understand.

The second story in the Gospel is the strange one of the devils who were permitted by Christ, after leaving the two men whom they had possessed, to enter into a herd of swine. Out of the dark tomb (symbolical of sin and its result, death) these poor men rush into the presence of the Light of Lights: at once their divided personalities begin to torment them and the devils cry out "What have we to do with Thee, Jesus Thou Son of God," recognizing His power.

Always for man's restoration some price must be paid: and like us the Gadarenes do not understand and the whole city comes out and beseeches
Our Lord to depart from them.

On February 2nd, we commemorate the Purification of the Blessed Virgin Mary, when she presented her Baby in the Temple and took as her thank offering a pair of turtle doves. This festival is often spoken of as Candlemas, and the custom still prevails throughout the Latin Communion of lighting up the Churches on this day with tapers and lamps, in remembrance of Simeon's words "A light to lighten the Gentiles."

There was no need for our Lady to comply with the laws of purification, she of whom the Angel said, "Blessed art thou among women," she, who was chosen because she was pure from the beginning, but with lowly humility she submits to Jewish custom. On this day too, the Prophecy of Simeon becomes the first of her Seven Sorrows, "Yea, a sword shall pierce through thine heart also."

On February 3rd, the name of St.
Blasius Bishop and Martyr, little known, but in England there are three Churches dedicated to him.
He lived in the reign of Diocletian and refusing to renounce Christianity he was thrown into prison and after suffering many tortures gained the crown of martyrdom.

In Art he is sometimes depicted holding an iron comb, such as is used by wool-combers; it is thought that this was one of the instruments of his tortures. In Norwich his day is still observed, as the Patron of manufacturers of wool. He died in the year 316.

A rather amusing story of a plumber appeared in a London daily paper.
The plumber who had evidently been reading or hearing something about the prevailing poverty of many of the clergy, was asked to do a small job in a curate's rooms. On completing his task he was asked by the curate to accept a small tip of two shillings.
"No, thank you sir—that's all right," said the man persisting in his refusal on the offer being pressed. "It's like this sir," went on the good fellow delightfully embarrassed. "I earn more than you do."

Many will be waiting with interest, for Bishop Gore's latest book, "Belief

THE STUDIO.

MAGAZINE OF FINE AND APPLIED ART.

The December issue of The Studio
the well-known magazine of fine and applied art, is as interesting in topic and rich in illustration as ever. An informative and discriminating article on the Aberdeen Art Gallery, "a temple of beauty" with a leading place among the art galleries of the United Kingdom—apart, that is, from the National Galleries, whose superior resources put them in an unassailable position—is illustrated by a full dozen reproductions in colour and halftone of notable pictures numbered among the treasures mentioned, including works from the brush of Sargent, Brangwyn Cameron and Orpen. Equally interesting is another article on the Arts and Crafts Society of Ireland covering jewels, lace, illuminations, sculpture, and stained glass. This also is illustrated profusely. A number beautiful full page photographs illustrate an article on the National Portrait Society whose eleventh exhibition at the Grafton Galleries containing a distinguished assemblage of oil paintings by some of the leading portrait painters of the day, supplemented by an interesting assortment of works in other media—water colours, pastels, chalk, and pencil drawings, etchings, woodcuts, and sculpture. The usual "Studio Talk" supplied by correspondents at all the leading art centres cover a wide variety of art topics and illustrations.

The str. "Changwo" which grounded on the Mopansib on Christmas Day arrived in Hankow recently, wreathed in a cloud of steam and looking like a late survivor of the Battle of Jutland. Her poop and promenade deck had to be cut in pieces to allow the huge supporting beams to go through and since these have been withdrawn huge gaps appear in her superstructure, giving the vessel a shot-away effect. Final temporary repairs will be completed and the "Changwo" will then proceed to Shanghai to dock.

In God" to arrive in the Colony. In early youth the Bishop was much influenced by Ruskin, Carlyle, and Edward Bowen: he has always been respected as one of the "Heavy weights" of the Church of England.

In this book the personality and consequently the freedom of God are the main points for which he contends.
One of the points he makes is, that if the incredibility of miracles be accepted the appeal which they make as trustworthy documents is overwhelming.

It is interesting to read in a home paper that on November 22nd Princess Mary visited St. Mary's Kemp Town a well known school for the daughters of the Clergy. She signed the visitors' book and took away many souvenirs. This school was founded eighty five years ago by the Elliot family. Charlotte Elliot, wife of the Founder, is the authoress of many well-known hymns, including
"Just as I am, without one plea."

The Festival of Christmas has gone,
but this poem by a mystic poet, H.
L. Hubbard, whose third volume of verse has just been published, reminds us that the lowliness taught by the Incarnation is always before us.

Sweet Babe of Bethlehem, whose infant head Found rest within a narrow manger-bed,
While choirs angelical their anthems poured
Before the earth's unknown, unnoticed Lord.
To-day in lowlier state Thou com'st
to earth.
No angel-songs proclaim Thy daily birth;
Yet some there are who meekly
bow their head
To find Thee in the Breaking of the Bread.

OBITUARY.

CAPTAIN E. C. LOURENCO.

The death occurred at his residence, No. 9 Chater Road, Kowloon, yesterday morning, of Capt. Eduardo C. Lourenco, a retired officer of the Portuguese Artillery, and a most respected member of the Portuguese community. Born in Macao in the year 1858, the deceased was 64 years of age. A member of an old Portuguese military family long connected with the history of Macao, Captain Lourenco received his training in Portugal, reaching the rank of Captain about 20 years ago when he retired and returned to Macao. He came to reside in Hongkong some six or seven years ago.

Although of a retiring disposition, he took a lively interest in the public affairs of Macao, and was closely identified with the charitable work of the Casa da Misericordia, of which he was President for some time. He was also deeply interested in the Educational work of St. Joseph's College, Macao, where he was a teacher for some years after his return from Portugal.

The deceased had many friends here as well as in Macao, Shanghai and Portugal, and the deepest sympathy of all will be extended to his widow and daughter in their sad bereavement.

The funeral took place at the Roman Catholic cemetery this afternoon passing the Monument at 5 o'clock.
